ABOUT TP CARING SPACES

Our Vision – The environments we create will change lives.

TP Caring Spaces is a charity supported by the design industry, working with a wide range of service providers to transform relaxation and recuperation spaces. These spaces are much needed and desperately underfunded.

Our aim is to ensure that through intelligent design the functional space feels valued and the institutional environment becomes restorative. In so doing, we hope additionally to be able to unlock the commercial potential of these previously overlooked areas.

"Over time we hope to provide this service to numerous diverse charities, from a homeless shelter to a community centre and cancer rehabilitation retreat. Our remit is simply to use our skills and our network to transform these charitable spaces into havens that enable their communities to thrive."

"Good design is far from a cure for the world's problems but we believe comfort is key to our recuperation"

"When we asked Bunny & Emma to help with our break room we were thrilled that they agreed without hesitation. The work took place over a weekend, and by Monday our break room felt like a completely different place - the wallpaper and the blinds reminded us of a holiday, times away from hospital - and the sofa is super comfortable! This room is really what we have needed for a long time"

Antara Rahman - Guy's & St Thomas' Hospital

"To say we are thankful is only the tip of the iceberg. To have a place of respite and comfort is needed when things get stressful. Not only do we have this now, but we also have a perfect place to have a good night's sleep before starting the morning shift. We cannot thank you enough for your generosity and kindness."

Eugenie Morrison - Mencap

"This is so thoughtfully designed, it shows how much you care. We love the style and the multi-uses. It is a flexible, beautiful and psychologically informed space."
